

LDGI, Inc. is a non-profit trade association operated by Jeff Pellegrin that provides economic development, consulting and advisory services for Louisiana's digital media and video game industry space.

With combined 55+ years of experience in digital media, business development and financial dealings, LDGI or Louisiana Digital Gaming Initiative, can provide inventive solutions to any organization's analytical or marketing needs. LDGI provides their members the flexibility to complement their existing economic & business development infrastructure and can rapidly deploy resources to complete engagements with the highest level of proficiency within the required time frame.

LDGI Services understands the sensitivity and confidentiality of its members and will always safeguard its clients' proprietary information.

LDGI has experience across a variety of industries including: digital media production, software development, technology incubation, middle ware solutions, telecommunications, event hosting and marketing efforts, economic & business development dealings.

Membership Benefits:

- Start-Up modeling
 - Company projections and Incentives
 - Operating models
 - Contract Dealing
 - Digital Media Interactive Tax Credit analysis
- Relocation and Expansion options for existing firms
- Marketing Efforts, Community Support and Entrepreneur Resource Guides
- Industry, market and/or company specific research
- Debt and capital structure advisory
- Business plan development
- Need-driven ad hoc analyses determined by organizational objectives
-